

OCKERT SNYMAN

"WE TEND TO WORK a lot with neutral tones, relying more on variations of textures and touches of colour, rather than bold colour clashes," says Ockert Snyman of Jacket Interiors. "The owners of this house, clients of ours for many years, really love colour. For their bedroom we allowed the cushion fabrics – velvet stripes and embroidered Lizzo silks from St Leger & Viney – to dictate the colour scheme. We then chose to do a feature wall-covering in deep grape-coloured Valerie silk from St Leger & Viney. We feel these tones work well with the taupes and flints which we chose for the headboard and sofa." Texture and luxury are introduced with a buttoned headboard upholstered in 'Flyte Velvet' by Mulberry, also from St Leger & Viney, and a knitted throw from The Gatehouse. "The look is rich but it's also very subtle and comforting," says Ockert. ■
